Vintage Notes: The 2024 growing season was marked by a combination of early-season rainfall, fluctuating temperatures, and a warm, dry summer. The season began with above-average rainfall, providing ample soil moisture—an ideal setup for vine growth. While temperatures rose in May and June, the warm conditions were balanced by cooler overnight temperatures, allowing for steady vine development. However, the early-season rainfall combined with the dry, warm summer led to an early and compressed harvest. Overall, the season's conditions were favorable, contributing to the production of high-quality wines.
